Friday, October 15. 1708.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Oct. 19.

Naples, Sept. 25.

TROOPS continue to be sent towards the Borders, whither 'tis thought the Prince of Darmstadt will go shortly with other General Officers. 'Tis rumour'd that the Route of the Posts will be alter'd in Case an Accommodation be not made with the Pope; and that the Mails will be sent to Manfredonia, or some other Place on the Adriatick, and be transported to Venice, thence to be forwarded to Vienna. A Vessel from Trapani in Sicily has landed here a Person charg'd with some secret Commission, who had immediate Audience of the Viceroy, and then of the Prince of Darmstadt. Some suspected Persons have been brought hither from Aversa. A Fellow of known Disaffection to the Government, having in a drunken Fit cried out in the open Street, Long live King Philip V, was condemn'd to Death; but the Collateral Council considering the Condition he was in, have chang'd his Punishment to that of serving 10 Years in the Gallies. The Viceroy gives constant Application to the civil and military Affairs of his Government, and to the providing of necessary Funds in the present Juncture.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Oct. 19.

Rome, Sept. 29. On Monday last, the Pope held a private Consistory, in which he propos'd the taking out of the Castle of St. Angelo 500000 Crowns of the 3 Millions, which Sixtus V deposited there, not to be touch'd but upon the most urgent Necessity. Some Cardinals oppos'd it at first, alledging that the War in which the Pope was imarking might be avoided; but Cardinal Marescotti representing the contrary, they all yielded to it; and a Decree was Sign'd by the Pope and the Cardinals, importing that the said Sum should be appropriated to the extraordinary Expences of the military Preparations for the defence of the Ecclesiastical State. 'Tis said that of the said 3 Millions laid up in the Castle of St. Angelo, not above half is left; the other half having been formerly expended by the Popes Gregory XIV, Clement VIII, Paul V, and Urban VIII. Major-General Ottan is raising here two Regiments of Cuirassiers, and Major-General Balbiani one of Dragoons; but 'tis difficult to find Horses for them. There are at present here 7000 Foot and Horse, 2000 on the Frontier of the Kingdom of Naples, 4000 at Faenza, and 2000 in Fort Urbano: Which in all make 25000 Men. The Marshal de Thesse is daily expected here; and the Cardinal de la Trimouille has already caus'd Apartments in his own Palace to be fitted up for him. 'Tis said he comes to offer to the Pope on the Part of the King of France, to send and maintain in Italy 20000 Men, as long as the War between his Holiness and the Emperour shall last.

Bologna, Octob. 2. The Secretary of our Regency arriv'd here Pest from Rome last Saturday, with Letters for our Cardinal Legate; and his Eminency having caus'd the Council of the City to assemble the next Day, notified to them an Order he had receiv'd from the Pope, to demand of them a Free-Gift of 100000 Pistoles, or to have their City made a Place of Arms.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Oct. 18.

Turin, Sept. 29. Some Letters from Romagna tell us, that the military Preparations of the Pope are intended only to accelerate a firm Peace among the Christian Potentates: If that be his Holyness's Design, we perceive he thinks the Way to accomplish it, is, to make a powerful Diversion in Favour of the King of France. Other Advices tell us his Holyness has consented, that the Marquis de Prie with a Councillor of the State of Milan, may come to Rome, on the Part of the Austrian Catholick King, to treat of an Accommodation.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Oct. 20.

Vienna, Oct. 16. It was believ'd here, that the Pope having caus'd his Auditor to declare to this Court, that the Massacre of the Imperial Soldiers in Argenta was not committed by his Troops, but by Banditti, had entertain'd some cool and moderate Thoughts, and might be dispos'd to hearken to reasonable Terms of Accommodation; but we are now convinc'd he is determin'd on a War: For the Secretary of Count Caunus Auditor of the Rota for the German Nation, is come hither Post from Rome, to acquaint this Court, that the Pope having held a Consistory of 42 Cardinals, most of them Partisans of the House of Bourbon, inveigh'd in very bitter and coarse Terms against the Emperour; and mov'd the Consistory to pass a Resolution, empowering his Holiness to take 500000 Crowns out of the Treasure laid up by Pope Sixtus V, and to employ it in a War against his Imperial Majesty.

Dresden, Oct. 14. We are inform'd, that King Augustus having written a Letter to King Charles III, expressing his Desire that the Differences between the two chief Roman Catholick Courts, that of Vienna and that of Rome, might be made up amicably; his Catholick Majesty has return'd a very obliging Answer, and among other things says he should be very glad if an Expedient could be found to Satisfy both Parties, seeing a War between them must needs be prejudicial to the Roman Catholick Religion.

From the Paris Letter, dated Oct. 15.

Paris, Oct. 15. Letters from Madrid of the 2d of this Month, tell us they had an Account from the Camp of the Duke of Orleans, that the 21st of last Month he detach'd M. Cardado Lieutenant-General with the Brigade of Normandie and the Regiments of Horse of Poço-blanc and Amezaga to march into the County of Ribagorça; and that the same Day his Royal Highness took another View of the Town and Castle of Ager, and gave the Government of it to M. de Bus. The greatest Part of the Foot are still at Balaguer: The Enemy are encamp'd at Villagrafa and at Argresola. The 22d the Duke of Orleans had Advice, that the Count d'Estaing having met on the Road from Trin to Conca a strong Party of the Enemy's regular Troops and Miquelets, attack'd them notwithstanding the advantageous Ground on which they were posted, forc'd a Defile behind which they had intrench'd themselves, kill'd a great Number, and oblig'd the rest to fly to the Mountains. He took Prisoners 200 Miquelets, 30 Soldiers of regular Troops, a Lieutenant-Collonel with 7 other Officers, and is now Master of the Conca, with no more Loss than of 3 Grenadiers kill'd and an Ensign of the Regiment of Marimont wounded. They had Advice at the Court of Madrid, that the Marquis de Bay had penetrated into Portugal, and plunder'd the little Town of Villa nueva del Freno in Estramadura on the River Alcarache within 7 Leagues of Badajox, at the Time a Fair was kept there. A Courier who arriv'd at Marli the 12th at Night brought a Confirmation, that the Night between the 7th and 8th the Besiegers of Lisle were invirely driven out of all the Works they had gain'd in their Six last Attacks. Another Courier who arriv'd at Versailles the 13th at Night brought an Account, that the Night between the 9th and 10th the Besiegers attack'd the Cover'd-Way a sixth Time, with 4000 Men, supported by a strong Body of Grenadiers: That the Action lasted three Hours, the Enemy returning thrice to the Charge, and being as often repuls'd with considerable Loss: That thereupon the Mar-

al de Boufflers caus'd a Salley to be made of his Dragoons, the Marquisses de Surville and Rannes at their Head, who pursu'd the Enemy into their Intrenchments: That 6000 Workmen who follow'd our Dragoons, levell'd their Lodgments, ruin'd their Batteries, and carry'd off their Gabions. And that on this Occasion we had not one Officer of Note kill'd or wounded, except M. de Remiancourt Colonel of Foot, a Relation of the Marshal de Boufflers, who receiv'd a great Contusion. They write from Court, that the King has created the Marshal de Boufflers a Peer of France, and sent him Permission to make what General Officers he pleases in his Garrison.
